Here's to Thee

FOREWARD

I see all, know all, hear all, heed all. I am the LIBERTAS of 1958 - I am you. I represent your joys, your sorrows, your work, your play. The many memories that you wish to keep I have endeavored to agglomerate. You came here lived, laughed, loved and learned; and now with sorrow, you leave.

I, your LIBERTAS, offer myself to you so that "Where for your Life's paths may lead, may your every thought and deed ever to your school days lead - - L. C. S."

Dear L.C.S.

HIGHLIGHTS

WALTON

Liberty 12 — Walton 20

In the first game of the L. C. S. football season Liberty played host to Walton. The general inexperience of our squad was evident and the loss of the majority of last year's crack line unfortunately was not offset by the experienced senior backfield. Another factor was that our quarterback, Jack Thompson, had not had any experience at that position since his freshman year.

WALDEN

Liberty 12 — Walden 6

Liberty's second game was at home against Walden, and the straightening-out began to pay off. The Liberty defense had improved one hundred per cent and that, along with a consistent ground-gaining offense, combined to upset the applecart of the favored Walden team.

SAUGERTIES

Liberty 19 — Saugerties 0

Liberty played the first away game of the season under the dim lights at Saugerties. Saugerties managed to score on the first play of the game, but it was nullified because of a clipping penalty.

GOSHEN

Liberty	Goshen
6	0

With the cancellation of a regularly scheduled game came an invitation for Liberty to play Goshen at Goshen. A strong football town, Goshen had won eighteen out of nineteen games during the last three years and was eager to defeat the larger town of Liberty.

HIGHLAND

Liberty	Highland
25	6

Liberty had only to win this home game with Highland to clinch the Mid-Hudson Valley trophy, and our whole team was very aware of this fact. John Lawrence, playing top-notch football, scored twice in the first half aided by the excellent blocking of Douglas Gorton, Paul McDermott and the backfield.

ARLINGTON

Liberty	Arlington
12	25

Never in our football history have we defeated Arlington. This year it was believed that history would be made to the contrary. However, this was not the case, as the Arlington passing offense proved too accurate for our defense. They tallied three of their touchdowns on passes, thus continuing their winning streak against the Liberty Indians.

HANCOCK

Liberty	Hancock
6	7

The Indians were planning on ending with a very successful season by beating Hancock, and in review of last year's 25-6 drubbing, the prospects looked good. Liberty was far too confident, however, as they found themselves pitted against an inspired and speedy Hancock eleven, who were determined to go home victorious.

The Cross Country team ran into bad luck as well as bad weather last year, emerging from Duso League competition without a single win. The bright note, however, is the fact that all the members including Captain-Elect Tom Canty are returning for action this year.

HONOR SOCIETY

Seated: S. Randall, S. Levenson Miss English, G. Garfinkel, S. Kaplan, C. Intemann. Standing: D. Hadden, F. Muhlig, M. Klugman, M. Pachanick, A. Wild.

Outstanding students who excel in scholarship, leadership, character and service to the school are considered for membership in the National Honor Society. Often referred to as Phi Betta Kappa members of the secondary school, the members of this organization set an example for their fellow students, who endeavor to attain the same goal which represents the acme of achievement.

A formal initiation is held in assembly in January while a private informal initiation takes place on a later date.

The Honor Society raises money each year by sponsoring a dance, faculty tea and bazaar. From this exchequer, one or more scholarships are presented to worthy seniors upon their graduation.

Miss Frances English advises this group of select students and its president is Gerald Garfinkel. Susan Levenson is Vice-President; Anita Wild is Secretary; Melvin Pachanick is Treasurer.

Under the guidance of Miss Ruth Knoll, who organized the group in 1939, the Student Council is responsible for such activities as the selling of "L" feathers and L. C. S. book covers, the organizing of the Snowball Patrol each winter and the providing of music at noon in the gymnasium and cafeteria.

This group participates in the RUSO League of Student Councils and in addition is a member of both the New York and National Associations of Student Councils.

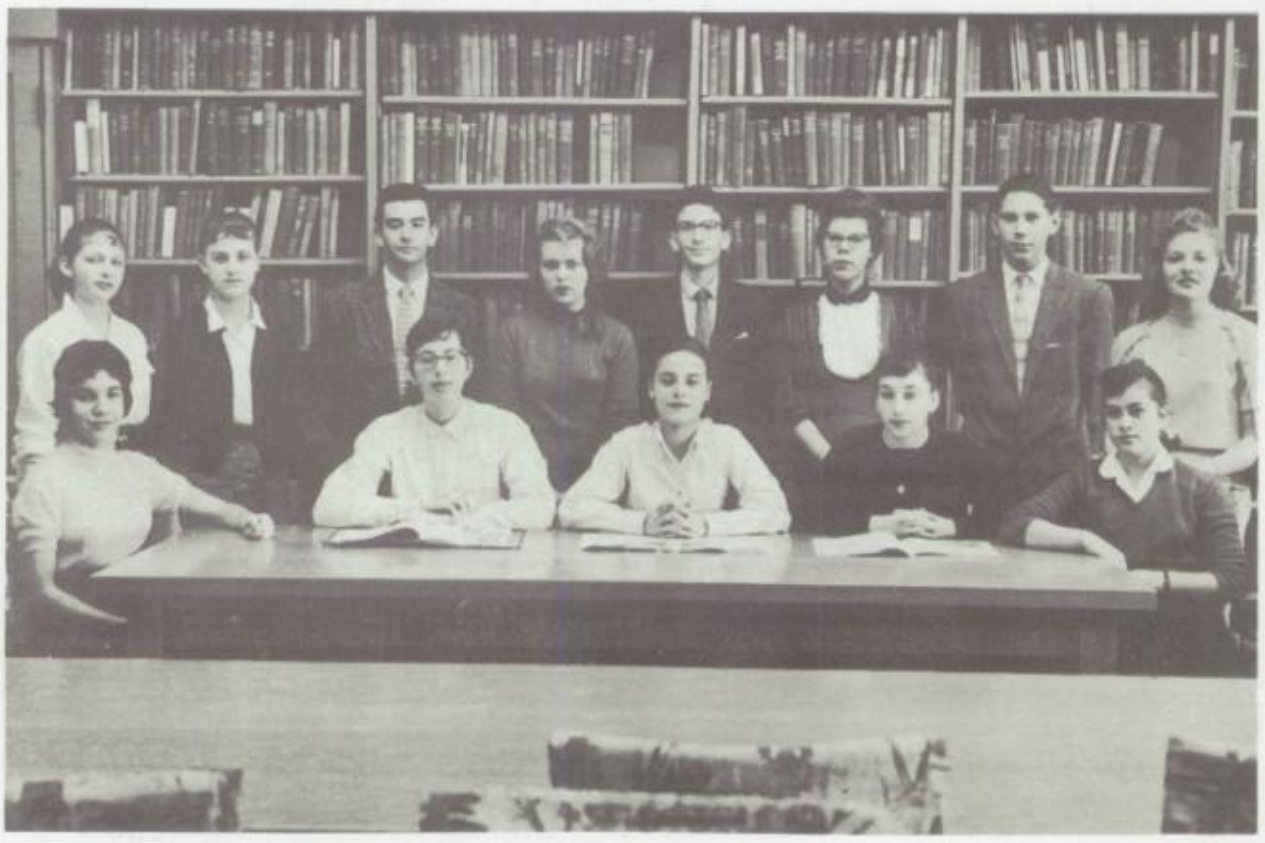
Twice a week the editors and staff members meet with Miss Kathryn Copeland to learn and put to use the fundamentals of journalism including headline-writing, proof-reading and general composition of material.

The staff-members act as reporters, having their stories ready for proof-reading by the deadlines set by Susan Levenson, Editor-in-Chief, and the section editors—Linda Marks, Features; Carol Launer, News; and Melvin Pachanick, Sports.



Seated: C. Levine, A. Shiller, S. Chesler, L. Senate, E. Meiselman. Standing: D. Friedman, E. Chesler, M. Shulman, P. Robertson, A. Koenigsberg, J. Linderman, M. Sacks, R. Botel.

These conscientious workers receive little glory, but their incessant efforts may be rewarded by induction into the Quill and Scroll. Mrs. Clarice Yates advises this group and Mary Ellen Sammann is business manager.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Seated: S. Kaplan, S. Levenson. Standing: M. Pachanick, J. Pellam.

One of the four honorary organizations in Liberty Central School, the Quill and Scroll inducts as members those Juniors and Seniors who excel in and have attained recognition in the field of journalism. An initiate must additionally stand in the upper third of his class. For the most part, they are chosen for their contributions to the school paper or the yearbook. Mrs. Clarice Yates, adviser of "The Comment," supervises these "journalists in the making."

DEBATE CLUB

Seated: P. McDermott, Miss English, Miss Copeland, J. Golembe. Standing: D. Hadden, G. Garfinkel, H. Schue, E. Shimm, G. Loos, J. Cook, C. Blumenstock.

Those students eager to develop their poise in public speaking have joined the Debate Club. Members prepare for and participate in interscholastic debate tournaments and speech contests. After 25 points have been earned, debators are eligible for National Forensic League membership. This year our debate team, guided by Miss Kathryn Copeland and Miss Frances English, took second place.

Members of the dramatic club are given an opportunity to receive instructions about and participate in the many facets of dramatics. Play-directing and costuming are taught, as well as the application of stage make-up. In addition, members attempt to perfect their speech, as this, too, is an important phase of acting.

Sandra Chesler presides over the meetings, and under the advisorship of Miss Hazel Supernaw, the members prepare and present dramatic programs during club meetings and in assemblies.

THESPIAN SOCIETY

Seated: C. Intemann, J. Golembe, J. Heller, M. Klugman. Standing: S. Kaplan, Miss Supernaw.

Led by Stephanie Shulman, president, and supervised by Miss Marguerite Mauer, Spanish students enjoy learning the background and customs of the Spanish folk while speaking and singing in the native tongue.

SENATUS

Roman games and songs highlight each Latin Club meeting as students delve deeper to learn the background of the fellow countrymen of Ceasar and Cicero. Under the supervision of Miss Hazel Supernaw, members enjoy participation in such activities as a Roman banquet and a trip to New York to visit sites displaying the influence of Roman culture. Alan Koenigsberg is president of the group.
